

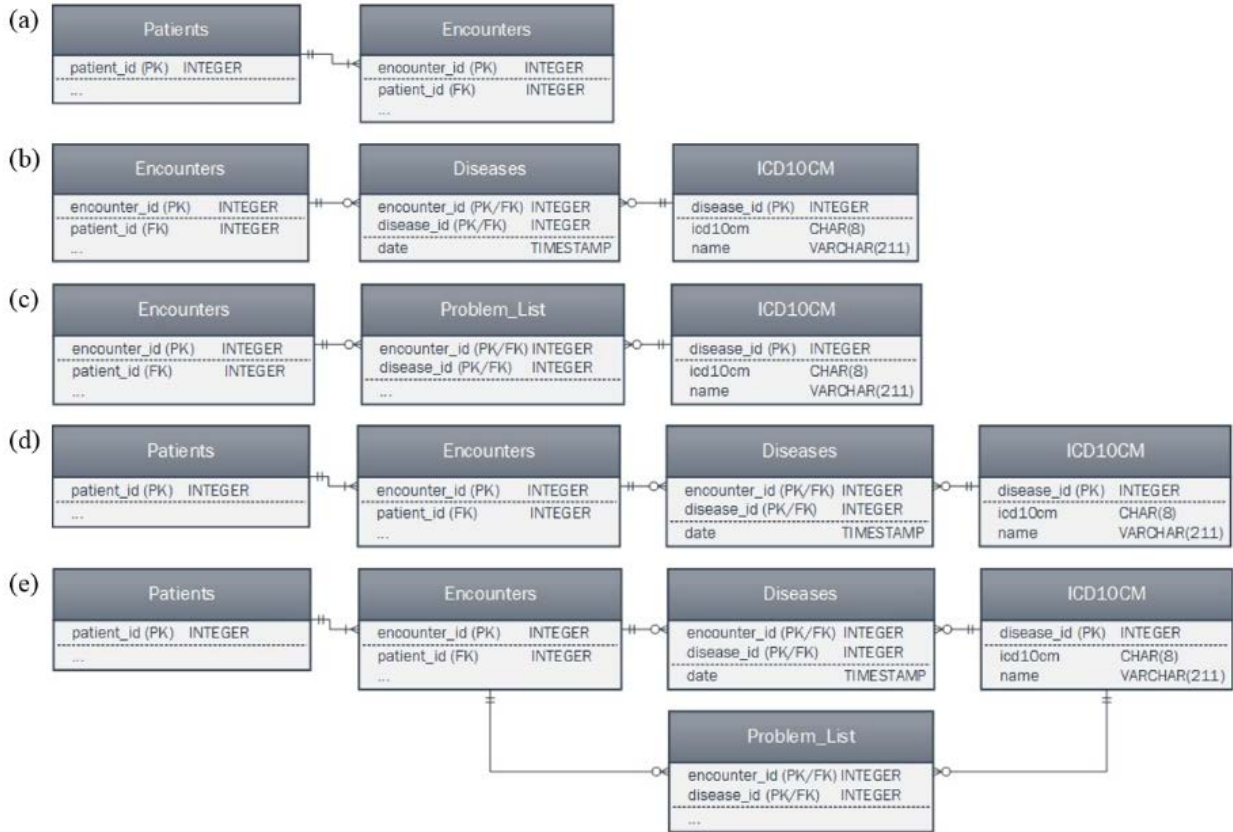

Figure 1

Data Modeling Example Solutions

Note: The parts of this example are as follows: (a) models patients and encounters, (b) diseases are assigned at an encounter, (c) shows problems and the encounters in which they were found, (d) combines (a) and (b), and (e) combines (c) and (d).